Dear all,

I hope this finds you in good shape!

I wish I could have something positive to tell you this week, but after 7 weeks of lock down there is still no end in sight and we have to remain closed. I am unable to say when we will be up and running again, but I will shout from the roof tops when that happens! The guesses going around is maybe mid end of June (wishful thinking?)!?

Representatives from all corners of dentistry are working/lobbying tirelessly for dental surgeries to open up. There are some “important meetings” this week that might shine a bit of light on the immediate future.

Considering how few patients have contacted me since we ceased work, I hope this means you are all fine and not suffering in silence. I am here if you want some advice or just some TLC. If you have any problems, however small, please do not hesitate to call me on 07759 226962.

In the meantime, we are preparing for dentistry post-lock down, sourcing PPE and putting protocols in place to achieve utmost safety. Dentistry is not going to look like it used to. Watch this space.

I have also been keeping myself busy and updated through webinars - both clinical and administrative - run by the British Dental Association, General Dental Council, CQC... and a whole range of educational platforms.

I wish all of you the best during these special times. Hope you are keeping busy and taking every chance to exercise daily.

Kindly,

Gunilla
